ABOUT THAILAND MEDICAL SERVICES

As many expats are aware the variety and quality of medical care and facilities varies greatly across Thailand and especially in the Chonburi area. Therefore, we have established Thailand Medical Services to allow patients the opportunity to discuss (in English) any questions or anxieties they may have before choosing which hospital to continue their treatment.

Thailand Medical Services are currently working with a number of hospitals both in Chonburi and in Bangkok and we offer comprehensive advice on facilities, expertise and costings across a wide range of medical treatments, therefore allowing our clients to make an informed choice.

Thailand Medical Services do not charge the client for this advice, but merely take a small commission from our partner hospitals. This means that you are getting unbiased views and can be sure of clear information at all times.

As well as offering expert advice we have also managed to get a special introduction bonus for our clients; that is that anyone who registers with Thailand Medical Services prior to their visit to any of our partner hospitals will receive a 5% discount on their bill. PLEASE NOTE: This discount is only applicable to the first visit/medical treatment and has a maximum value of 5,000 baht...this offer expires on 31st December 2007.

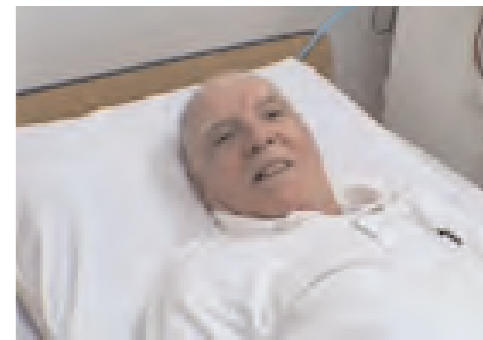

This is what some of our clients have said about Thailand Medical Services:

"I have used Thailand Medical Services 3 or 4 times during the last year from open heart surgery to hemodialysis treatment and can honestly say that the treatment here is comparable with the standards of quality in my home country of America".

"On top of that it is the personal service that really makes the difference, from a friendly smile from the nursing staff to being taken care of through every step of the hospitalization procedure from arrival to departure".

"I will have no hesitation in using medical services in Thailand again in the future and can highly recommend the excellent service provided by Thailand Medical Services".
